Welcome

Dear Colleagues,

We are pleased to announce the European Radiation Protection Week 2023 from October 9-13, 2023, at University College Dublin, Ireland. ERPW is an annual, multidisciplinary event which addresses current and emerging topics related to radiation protection. It brings together experts from all spheres of radiological protection, including medical uses of radiation, environmental protection, radiation protection research, and regulation.

ERPW 2023 aims to:

- promote the integration and the efficiency of European research and development in radiation protection to better protect humans (public, patients and workers) and the environment;
- advance scientific excellence in radiation protection;
- maintain and develop European radiation protection research capacity;
- encourage scientific education and training and foster key research infrastructures in the field of radiation protection;
- foster international collaboration, including collaboration with sister organisations and networks, in a non-exclusive manner by open interaction with the wider radiation protection research community and stakeholders (inclusive of patients and the public).

ERPW 2023 is being hosted by University College Dublin, a member of EURAMED, and will have a strong focus on medical applications of ionising radiation and the associated radiation protection of patients, staff, and the public. For ERPW 2023, there will also be a strong focus on outreach and engagement (with patients and the public) linked to medical applications and environmental applications (e.g., radon gas) in radiation protection research.

The target audience for this meeting consists of experts in radiation protection across all areas and disciplines including trainees and PhD students. We anticipate approximately 350 radiation protection professionals and researchers from around the world will attend ERPW 2023.

ERPW is supported by scientific expertise from the most recognised international stakeholders in radiation protection, including: the MEENAS Group (Consortium of European Radiation Research Platforms) consisting of MELODI (Multidisciplinary European Low Dose Initiative), EURADOS (European Radiation Dosimetry Group), EURAMED (European Alliance for Medical Radiation Protection Research), NERIS (European Platform on Preparedness for Nuclear and Radiological Emergency Response and Recovery), ALLIANCE (European Radioecology Alliance), and SHARE (Social Sciences and Humanities in Ionising Radiation Research), along with PIANOFORTE (European Partnership for Radiation Protection Research).

More information on the conference will be posted on the website www.ucd.ie/ERPW2023 and please contact us via e-mail at erpw2023@ucd.ie with any other questions you may have.

We appreciate your consideration in supporting the success of the conference and we look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,

ERPW 2023
Local Organising Committee
